

Meet Dr. Seema Parmar

- Health Intelligence and Insights Director, Advisory Services at Cleveland Clinic Canada and an experienced senior management consultant and health-based knowledge expert. Has served clients in Canada, the US and Middle East as an Associate Partner at McKinsey & Company
- Deep experience in health-based data & analytics, having helped build an analytics & delivery innovation domain and social determinants of health capability. Experience further includes strategy & growth, innovative payment & care delivery models, and multi-sector partnerships
- Complimentary expertise in quantitative and qualitative research and program evaluation having worked as a researcher with Alberta Health Services, with a passion for health equity and supporting underserved communities. Past experience includes global health (incl. maternal health), community health work, and board-level experience in the health sector
- PhD from Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, MHA from The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and BSc in Life Sciences from Queen's University

Dr. Seema Parmar
PhD, MHA, BSc
Cleveland Clinic Canada
McKinsey & Company
Alberta Health Services
Johns Hopkins University
UNC-Chapel Hill
Queen's University

Dr. Parmar combines consulting, research & public health expertise to drive health insights & innovation